FRICK FRACK BLACKJACK

A Classic Game with a New Twist
Making the Old New Again

Come Play with Us

Frick Frack Blackjack is a game that changes the familiar into the extraordinary, forming the old things that you know into a new world full of change and adaptation.

The game on surface is a silly farce, a gambling game with no money, but from that simple premise forms an open slate of creativity. We endeavor to flip the script and take something often seen as sinister, casino gambling, and make it light and welcoming.

Everyone can briefly become the salesman or the huckster with any object or idea you can claim to have value. We see value as relative and existing within a conversation. Our game forces interaction and compromise, which only comes through argument and debate. We create the open arena to argue playfully and attempt to shape the way we argue so that it's a game you play, but a game that everyone wins.

Objects that were once discarded become valued pieces once someone wins them through our experience. Turning what was once trash truly into treasure. Ours is truly an adult sandbox and we believe that if you give people the tools they will build you a castle.
